-- The MAILING DATE of this communication appears on the cover sheet with the correspondence address --

Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 8-10,12,14-15 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Schwartz et al. Schwartz et al shows the use of an office chair (C) on a movable base having a bracket (58) with a cavity therein (50). The bracket can inherently be mounted and “selectively fixed” at six inches above the plane of a top of a seat of the chair. An armrest support arm (56) has a first portion rotatably/pivotally mounted within the cavity of the bracket (see Fig. 13A) and a second portion extending from the bracket whereby an armrest body is mounted on an end thereof. A rotation lock (59) engages the armrest support to prevent rotation of the armrest support within the cavity. The rotation lock is mounted in the bracket. In regards to claim 8. Schwartz et al. having a parallel arm mechanism (see Fig. 12A) mounted at a first arm to a back support (58) and mounted at a second end to an armrest body (52,53).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 2-3,13, and 16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Schwartz et al. The method steps as recited would have been incorporated within the use of the invention as taught by Schwartz et al.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 09/22/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In response to applicant's argument that Schwartz does not teach a parallel arm mechanism applicant is directed to Fig.12A which clearly shows a parallel arm mechanism so far as defined. Although the claims are interpreted in light of the specification, limitations from the specification are not read into the claims. See In re Van Geuns, 988 F.2d 1181, 26 USPQ2d 1057 (Fed. Cir. 1993).

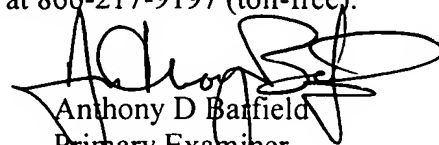

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1,4-7,11 are allowed over the prior art made of record.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Anthony D. Barfield whose telephone number is 571-272-6852. The fax phone number for the organization where this application or proceeding is assigned is 571-272-8300.
